

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

TO THE NINETEENTH EDITION.

THE work, of which the following is a revised edition, was first published soon after the appearance of Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, to which it was designed to serve as an Introduction. It was favorably received by classical teachers, and the demand for it still continues undiminished. Such having been its reception and continued popularity, the author, while carefully revising every part for a new edition, has not thought it expedient to make any radical alteration in its plan.

The following extracts from the preface to the second edition will sufficiently explain the plan and arrangement of the work:—

- "This work consists of two parts. The first is an abstract of Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, comprising the most important principles of that work, together with its paradigms.
- "The second part consists of Exercises in Syntax, Reading Lessons, and a Vocabulary.
- "The Exercises are designed to illustrate the principal rules of Latin construction, and to render the student familiar with the grammatical inflections. They are divided into two parts. The first consists of Latin sentences exemplifying the rules under which they are severally arranged; the second, of English examples, in the translation of which into Latin the same principles are to be applied.
- "The Reading Lessons consist of three parts. The first, embracing a brief compendium of the Life of Joseph, is taken, with slight alterations, from the Epitome Historiæ Sacræ of Professor Lhomond. The remaining parts, consisting of Fables and a Latin version of an ancient and popular English Tale, are taken from the lessons of Bröder. To the Reading Lessons are subjoined notes, serving to explain the more difficult grammatical constructions by reference to the principles contained in the first part.

"To prevent the erroneous habits of pronunciation which students often acquire in the commencement of their Latin course, the inflected words are divided into syllables, and the place of the accent carefully marked.

"It will be found a useful exercise, especially for the younger classes, to prepare written translations of their Latin lessons, and on a subsequent day to retranslate them into Latin without reference to the original. Exercises of this kind should at first be short, but may gradually be extended to almost any required length."

In preparing a revised edition of the Lessons, the Synopsis of the Grammar, constituting the first part of the work, has been made to correspond more exactly with the revised editions of Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar. To this part have been added a few sections, containing directions for translating certain Latin forms and idioms.

In the Reading Lessons no change has been made beyond a few verbal corrections and the occasional addition of references, especially to the new sections relating to translation.

The Vocabulary has been entirely remodelled, so as better to exhibit the derivation of the words and the proper succession of their meanings.

Since the first publication of the Latin Lessons, the author has prepared two other elementary works, designed, like this, for the use of students in the commencement of their Latin course. The first of these is entitled the "First Latin Book," and was intended particularly for the use of Female Seminaries, and for those youth, of either sex, who study Latin mainly "for the purpose of improvement in the knowledge of general grammar, and for a better understanding of that portion of their native tongue which is derived from that language." To most students of these classes the use of the First Latin Book will supersede that of a more extended grammar, since it contains most of the essential principles of Latin grammar, expressed in clear and simple language. The author's recent editions of the "Latin Reader" and the "Viri Romæ" can be used with equal facility in connection with the First Latin Book, or with the Grammar of Andrews and Stoddard.

The other elementary work, above referred to, is called "A Synopsis of Latin Grammar," and consists of the paradigms and principal rules of Latin etymology and syntax. "It is designed," as is stated in its preface, "especially for those students who commence their Latin course with the use of Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar; and is intended to supply, in convenient compass, all those parts of the Grammar to which they will need most frequently to recur in the preparation of their daily lessons." It will hence be obvious, that each of these works, though apparently occupying in some measure the same ground, is in reality of a different character, and was intended for a different class of students.

This work is now once more submitted to the indulgent judgment of the public, in the cherished hope that the same favor that it has hitherto received will be extended to it in its present revised form.

FIRST LESSONS

1. LATIN GRAMMAR teaches the principles of the Latin language.

2. It is divided into Orthography, Orthoëpy, Etymology, Syntax, and Prosody.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

- 3. Orthography treats of the letters and other characters of a language, and the proper mode of spelling words.
 - 4. The letters of the Latin language are twenty-four.
- 5. They have the same names as the corresponding characters in English.

They are A, a; B, b; C, c; D, d; E, e; F, f; G, g; H, h; I, i; J, j; L, 1; M, m; N, n; O, o; P, p; Q, q; R, r; S, s; T, t; U, u; V, v; X, x; Y, y; Z, z.

Into what parts is it divided?
 Of what does Orthography treat?

Of what does Orthography treat?
 Ifow many letters has the Latin language?

5. What are their names ?

^{1.} What does Latin Grammar teach?

- 6. K and W are not found in Latin words.
- 7. Letters are divided into vowels and consonants.

8. The vowels are a, e, i, o, u, and y.

9. Of the consonants, l, m, n, and r, are called liquids.

10. X and z are called double letters. X stands for cs or gs; and z for ds or ts.

- 11. The other consonants, except h and s, are called mutes.
- 12. Two vowels, in immediate succession, in the same syllable, are called a diphthong; as, as in mu'-sae, or eu in heu.

13. A short vowel is marked by a curved line over it; as, i in dom'-ĭ-nus.

- 14. A long vowel is marked by a horizontal line over it; as, o in ser-mô'-nis.
- 15. A common or doubtful vowel is marked by both a curved and a horizontal line; as, u in vol'-ŭ-cris.
- 16. The circumflex accent denotes a contraction; as, num-mûm for num-mô'-rum.
- 17. The grave accent is sometimes written over particles to distinguish them from other words containing the same letters; as, quòd, because; quod, which.

18. The diæresis denotes that the vowel over which it stands, does not form a diphthong with the preceding vowel; as, aër, the air.

6. What English letters are not found in Latin?

7. How are letters divided?

8. Which are vowels?9. Which of the consonants are liquids?

10. Which are double letters?11. What are the other consonants called?12. What is a diphthong?

- 13. How is a short vowel marked? 14. How is a long vowel marked?
- 15. How is a doubtful vowel marked?
- 16. What is the use of the circumflex accent ?17. What is the use of the grave accent ?18. What is the use of the diearesis?

ORTHOËPY.

- 19. Orthoëpy treats of the right pronunciation of words.
- 20. A, at the end of an unaccented syllable, has the sound of a in father, or in ah; as, mu'-sa, pronounced mu'-zah.
- 21. Es, at the end of a word, is pronounced like the English word ease; as, ig'-nes.

22. Os, at the end of plural cases, is pronounced like ose in dose; as, nos, il'-los.

23. C and g have their soft sound, like s and j, before e, i, and y, and the diphthongs æ and æ.

24. The penult of a word is the last syllable but one.

25. The antepenult is the last syllable but two.

The following are the general rules for the quantity of syllables: -

26. (1.) A vowel before another vowel is short.

27. (2.) Diphthongs, not beginning with u, are long.

- 28. (3.) A vowel before x, z, j, or any two consonants, except a mute and a liquid, is long, by position, as it is called.
- 29. (4.) A vowel before a mute and a liquid is common, i. e. either long or short; as, a in pa'-tris.

30. Accent is a particular stress of voice upon certain syllables of words.

19. Of what does Orthoepy treat?

What sound has a at the end of an unaccented syllable?
 How is es at the end of a word pronounced?

22. How is os pronounced at the end of plural cases?

23. What is the rule for the sound of c and z?

24. What is the penult?

25. What is the autepenult?
26. What is the first general rule for the quantity of syllables?
27. What is the second?
28. What is the third?

29. What is the fourth?

30. What is accent?

31. In words of two syllables, the penult is always accented; as, pă'-ter, mā'-ter, pen'-na.

32. In words of more than two syllables, if the penult is long, it is accented; but, if it is short, the accent is on the antepenult; as, a-mī'-cus, dom'-ī-nus.

33. If the penult is common, the accent, in prose, is upon the antepenult; as, phar'-e-tra; but genitives in ius, in which i is common, accent their penult in prose; as, u-ni'-us.

34. In every Latin word there are as many syllables as there are separate vowels and diphthongs.

ETYMOLOGY.

35. Etymology treats of the different classes of words, their derivation, and various inflections.

36. The parts of speech in Latin are eight - Substantive or Noun, Adjective, Pronoun, Verb, Adverb, Preposition, Conjunction, and Interjection.

37. To verbs belong Participles, Gerunds, and Supines.

- 38. Inflection, in Latin grammar, signifies a change in the termination of a word.
- 39. It is of three kinds declension, conjugation, and comparison.
- 40. Nouns, pronouns, adjectives, participles, gerunds, and supines, are declined.

31. How are words of two syllables accented?

32. How are words of more than two syllables accented?
33. How, if the penult is common?

34. How many syllables has a Latin word?

35. Of what does Etymology treat?
36. How many parts of speech are there in Latin?

37. What classes of words belong to verbs?

38. What is inflection?
39. How many kinds of inflection are there?

40. What classes of words are declined?

41. Verbs are conjugated.

42. Adjectives and adverbs are compared.

NOUNS.

43. A substantive or noun is the name of an object.

44. A proper noun is the name of an individual object; as, Casar; Roma, Rome.

45. A common noun is the name of a class of objects, to each of which it is applicable; as, homo, a man; avis, a bird.

46. A collective noun is one which, in the singular number, denotes a collection of individuals; as, populus, a people.

47. An abstract noun is the name of a quality, action, or other attribute; as, bunitas, goodness; gaudium, joy.

48. A material noun is the name of a substance considered in the gross; as, lignum, wood; ferrum, iron.

GENDER.

- 49. Nouns have three genders masculine, feminine, and neuter.
- 50. The gender of Latin nouns depends either on their signification, or on their declension and termination.
- 51. Names and appellations of all male beings, and also of rivers, winds, and months, are masculine.

49. How many genders have nouns?

50. On what does the gender of Latin nouns depend?51. What is the general rule for nouns of the masculine gender?

^{41.} What classes of words are conjugated ?
42. What compared ?
43. What is a noun?
44. What is a proper noun?

^{45.} What is a common noun?

^{46.} What is a collective noun ?

^{47.} What is an abstract noun?
48. What is a material noun?

52. Names and appellations of all female beings, and also of countries, towns, trees, plants, ships, islands, poems, and gems, are feminine.

53. Some words are either masculine or feminine. These, if they denote things having life, are said to be of the common gender; if things without life, of the doubtful gender.

54. Nouns which are neither masculine nor feminine, are said to be of the neuter gender.

NUMBER.

- 55. Latin nouns have two numbers, the Singular and the Plural, which are distinguished by their terminations.
- 56. The singular number denotes one object; the plural, more than one.

CASES.

- 57. Cases are those terminations of nouns, by means of which their relations to other words are denoted.
- 58. Latin nouns have six cases, viz. Nominative, Genitive, Dative, Accusative, Vocative, and Ablative.
 - 59. The nominative indicates the relation of a subject to a finite verb.

60. The genitive is used to indicate origin, possession, and many other relations, which, in English, are denoted by the preposition of.

^{52.} For nouns of the feminine gender?

^{53.} Define common and doubtful gender.

^{54.} What nouns are neuter?
55. How many numbers have Latin nouns?

^{56.} What do these denote?

57. What are cases?

58. How many cases have Latin nouns?

^{59.} How is the nominative used ? 60. How is the genitive used?

61. The dative denotes that to or for which any thing is, or is done.

62. The accusative is either the object of an active verb, or of certain prepositions, or the subject of an infinitive.

63. The vocative is the form appropriated to the name of any object which is addressed.

64. The ablative denotes privation, and many other relations, especially those which are usually expressed in English by the prepositions with, from, in, or by.

DECLENSIONS.

65. There are, in Latin, five different modes of declining nouns, called the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth declensions.

66. These may be distinguished by the termination of the genitive singular, which, in the first declension, ends in α , in the second in i, in the third in is, in the fourth in is, and in the fifth in $e\bar{i}$.

67. Every inflected word consists of two parts—a root, and a termination.

- 68. The root is the part which is not changed by inflection.
- 69. The termination is the part annexed to the root.

^{61.} How is the dative used?

^{62.} How is the accusative used?

^{63.} How is the vocative used?

^{64.} How is the ablative used?
65. How many declensions have Latin nouns?

^{66.} How are the declensions distinguished from each other?

^{67.} What are the two parts of an inflected word?

68. What is the root?

^{69.} What is the termination ?

The following table exhibits a comparative view of the terminations of the five declensions : -

Singular.

Remarks.

- 70. The accusative singular, except in some neuter nouns, ends in m.
- 71. The vocative singular is like the nominative, except in nouns in us of the second declension.
 - 72. The nominative and vocative plural are alike.
 - 73. The genitive plural ends in um.
- 74. The dative and ablative plural end alike; in the 1st and 2d declensions, in is; in the 3d, 4th, and 5th, in bus.

^{70.} How does the accusative singular end?

^{71.} What is the rule for the vocative singular?
72. What case is like the nominative plural?
73. How does the genitive plural end?

^{74.} What is the rule for the dative and ablative plural?

- 75. The accusative plural, except in neuter nouns, ends in s.
- 76. Nouns of the neuter gender have the accusative and vocative like the nominative, in both numbers; and these cases, in the plural, end in a.

FIRST DECLENSION.

- 77. Nouns of the first declension end in a, e, as, es.
- 78. Those in a and e are feminine; those in as and As are masculine.
 - 79. Latin nouns of this declension end only in a.
 - 80. They are thus declined: -

Singular.		Plural.
Nom. Mu'-sa, Gen. mu'-sæ, Dat. mu'-sæ, Acc. mu'-sam, Voc. mu'-sa, Ald. mu'-så,	of a muse; to a muse; a muse; O muse;	Nom. mu'-sæ, Gem. mu-sa'-rum, Dat. mu'-sis, Acc. mu'-sas, Voc. mu'-sæ, Abl. mu'-sis,	muses; of muses; to muses; muses; O muses; with muses.

In like manner decline

Au'-la, a hall. Cu'-ra, care. Ga'-le-a, a helmet. Mach'-I-na, a machine. Pen'-na, a quill, a wing. Sa-git'-ta, an arrow.

Dea, a goddess, and filia, a daughter, have generally abus in the dative and ablative plural.

GREEK NOUNS.

81. Nouns of the first declension in e, as, and es, and some also in a, are Greek.

^{75.} How does the accusative plural end?

^{76.} What peculiarities have nouns of the neuter gender?
77. How do nouns of the first declension end?

^{78.} Of what gender are they?

^{79.} How do Latin nouns of this declension end?

^{80.} Decline musa.

⁸¹ To what language do nouns in e, as, and es, belong ?

82. Greek nouns in e, as, and es, are thus declined in the singular number:—

N. Pe-nel'-ŏ-pe,	N. Æ-nē'-as,	N. An-chi'-ses.
G. Pe-nel'-ŏ-pes,	G. Æ-ně'-æ,	G. An-chi'-sae,
D. Pe-nel'-ŏ-pæ,	D. Æ-nè′-æ,	D. An-chi'-sæ,
Ac. Pe-nel'-ŏ-pen,	Ac. Æ-ne'-am or -an,	Ac. An-chī'-sen,
V. Pe-nel'-ŏ-pe,	V. Æ-né'-a,	V. An-chi'-se,

Ne-go'-ti-um, a business.

Ni'-trum, natron.
Præ-sid'-i-um, a defence.
Sax'-um, a rock.
Scep'-trum, a sceptre.
Tem'-plum, a temple.

87. Vir, a man, and its compounds, (the only nouns in ir,) are declined like gener.

SS. Proper names in ius omit e in the vocative; as, Horatius, Horāti. So also filius, a son, has fili.

^{87.} How is vir declined?

^{88.} What nouns are excepted in the vocative singular?

89. Deus, a god, has deus in the vocative, and in the plural it has commonly dii and diis, instead of dei and deis.

GREEK NOUNS.

89½. Nouns of the second declension, ending in os and on, are Greek. They are thus declined:—

Barbiton, a lyre.

REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS.

215. Reflexive pronouns are such as relate to the subject of the proposition in which they stand.

216. The reflexives of the third person are sui and suus. Meus, tuus, noster, and vester, are also used reflexively, when the subject of the proposition is of the first or second person.

217. A verb is a word by which something is affirmed of a person or thing.

- 218. That of which any thing is affirmed is called the subject of the verb; as, puer legit, the boy reads; virtus laudātur, virtue is praised. In these propositions, pucr, the boy, and virtus, virtue, are the subjects of the verbs.
 - 219. Verbs are either active or neuter.
- 220. I. An active perb expresses such an action as requires the addition of an object to complete the sense; as, amo te, I love thee.

221. Most active verbs have two forms, which are called the active and the passive voices.

222. A verb in the active voice represents the agent as acting upon some person or thing, called the object; as, puer librum legit, the boy is reading a book.

223. A verb in the passive voice represents the object as being acted upon by the agent; as, liber a puero legitur, a book is read by the boy.

224. II. A neuter verb expresses such an action or state, as does not require the addition of an object to complete the sense; as, equus currit, the horse runs; ego sedeo, I sit.

225. Neuter verbs have in general the form of the active voice only.

226. A deponent verb is an active or neuter verb, having the form of the passive voice only; as, sequor,

I follow; morior, I die.

227. Changes are made in the terminations of verbs to denote their different voices, moods, tenses, numbers, and persons.

4 MOODS.

228. Moods are forms of the verb denoting the manner of the action or state expressed by the verb.

229. There are in Latin four moods - the indicative, the subjunctive, the imperative, and the infinitive.

230. The indicative mood is that form of the verb which is used in independent and absolute assertions, as, amo, I love; amabo, I shall love.

231. The subjunctive mood is that form of the verb which is used to express an action or state simply as conceived by the mind; as, si me obsecret, redibo; if he entreat me, I will return.

232. The imperative mood is that form of the verb which is used in commanding, exhorting, or entreating; as, ama, love thou.

233. The infinitive mood is that form of the verb which is used to denote an action or state indefinitely, without limiting it to any person or thing as its subject: as, amare, to love.

TENSES.

234. Tenses are forms of the verb denoting the times of the action or state expressed by the verb.

235. Latin verbs have six tenses—the present, imperfect, future, perfect, pluperfect, and future perfect.

236. The present tense represents an action as now going on, and not completed; as, amo, I love, or am loving.

237. The imperfect tense represents an action as going on at some past time, but not then completed; as, amabam, I was loving. Sometimes it denotes customary past action; as, legebam, I used to read; or attempting to act; as, pelliciebat, he tried to entice.

238. The future tense denotes that an action will be going on hereafter, without reference to its completion; as, amabo, I shall love, or be loving.

239. The perfect tense represents an action either as just completed, or as completed, in some indefinite past time; as, amavi, I have loved, on I loved.

240. In the former sense, it is called the perfect definite; in the latter, which is more common, it is called the historical perfect or perfect indefinite.

237. How does the imperfect tense?

^{238.} How does the future tense?

^{239.} How does the perfect tense? 240. In its former sense, what is it called? In its latter?

241. The pluperfect tense represents a past action as completed, at or before the time of some other past action or event; as, literas scripseram, antequam nuncius venit; I had written the letter, before the messenger arrived.

242. The future perfect tense denotes that an action will be completed, at or before the time of some other future action or event; as, cum coenavero, proficiscar:

when I shall have supped, I will go.

243. Numbers are forms of the verb denoting the unity or plurality of its subject.

244. Verbs, like nouns, have two numbers - the singular and the plural.

PERSONS.

245. Persons are forms of the verb appropriated to the different persons of the subject, and accordingly called the first, second, and third persons.

PARTICIPLES, GERUNDS, AND SUPINES.

246. A participle is a word derived from a verb, and partaking of its meaning, but having the form of an adjective.

247. Gerunds are verbal nouns, used only in the genitive, dative, accusative, and ablative singular.

^{241.} How does the pluperfect tense represent an action? 242. How does the future perfect tense?

^{243.} What are numbers ?

^{244.} How many numbers have verbs? 245. What are persons? 246. What is a participle?

^{247.} What are gerunds?

248. Supines also are verbal nouns of the fourth declension, in the accusative and ablative singular; as, amatum, to love; amatu, to be loved. The supine in um is called the former supine; that in u, the latter.

CONJUGATION.

249. The conjugation of a verb is the regular formation and arrangement of its several parts, according to their voices, moods, tenses, numbers, and persons.

250. There are four conjugations, which are characterized by the vowel before re in the present of the infinitive active.

In the first conjugation it is \tilde{a} long; In the second, . . . ē long; In the fourth. . . . i long.

251. The general root of a verb consists of those letters which are not changed by inflection; as, am in amo, amābam, amavērim, amātus.

252. A verb has three special roots; - the first is found in the present, and is the same as the general root; the second is found in the perfect; and the third in the supine or perfect participle.

253. In regular verbs of the first, second, and fourth conjugations, the second root is formed by adding, respectively, av, ev, and iv, to the general root; and the third root by a similar addition of at, et, and it.

Note. - The tenses formed from the second root are sometimes contracted; as, amástis for amavistis.

^{248.} What are supines?

^{249.} What is meant by the conjugation of a verb?
250. How many conjugations are there, and how are they characterized ?

^{251.} What is the general root of a verb?252. How many special roots has a verb?

^{253.} How are the second and third roots formed in regular verbs of the 1st. 2d. and 4th conjugations?

254. The second root in the third conjugation either is the same as the first, or is formed from it by adding s; the third is formed by adding t.

255. The present and perfect indicative, the supine in um, and the present infinitive, are called the principal parts of the verb.

The substantive or auxiliary verb sum is very irregular in those parts which, in other verbs, are formed from the first root. It is thus conjugated:

^{319.} Of what conjugation are they, and how are they formed ? 320. What are inceptive verbs?

^{321.} How do they cud, and in what manner are they formed ?

PARTICLES.

322. The parts of speech which are neither declined nor conjugated, are called by the general name of particles.

323. They are adverbs, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections.

ADVERBS.

324. An adverb is a particle used to modify or limit the meaning of a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

COMPARISON OF ADVERBS.

325. Adverbs derived from adjectives with the terminations e and ter, and most of those in o, are compared like their primitives.

326. The comparative ends in ius, and the superlative in ime.

PREPOSITIONS.

327. A preposition is a particle which expresses the relation between a noun or pronoun and some preceding word.

CONJUNCTIONS.

328. A conjunction is a particle which connects words or propositions, and indicates their relation.

^{322.} What are particles?
323. Mention the classes of particles.

^{324.} What is an adverb?
325. What adverbs are compared?
326. How do the comparative and superlative end?

^{327.} What is a preposition?

3284. Conjunctions, in respect to their signification, are either copulative, disjunctive, concessive, comparative, adversative, causal, illative, final, conditional, or interrogative.

329. Copulatives connect things that are to be considered jointly; as, ac, atque, et, etiam, -que, quoque, and nec or neque.

330. Disjunctives connect things that are to be considered separately; as, aut, seu, sive, -ve, vel, and neve or neu.

3304. Concessives denote a concession; comparatives, a comparison; adversatives, opposition; causals, a cause or reason; illatives, an inference; finals, a purpose or result; conditionals, a condition; and interrogatives, a question.

INTERJECTIONS.

331. An interjection is a particle used in exclamation, and expressing some emotion of the mind.

SYNTAX.

332. Syntax treats of the construction of propositions, their connection and dependence.

333. A proposition consists of a subject and a predicate.

334. The subject of a proposition is that of which something is affirmed.

331. What is an interjection?

332. Of what does syntax treat?

^{3284.} Into what classes may conjunctions be divided? 329. What are copulative conjunctions? 330. What are disjunctive conjunctions?

^{3304.} What do the several classes of concessive, adversative, &c., denote ?

^{533.} Of what does a proposition consist? 834. What is the subject of a proposition ?

335. The predicate expresses that which is affirmed of the subject.

Thus, in the proposition, Equus currit, The horse runs, equus is the subject, and currit is the predicate.

336. The grammatical subject is either a noun, or some word standing for a noun. The logical subjec consists of the grammatical subject with its modifications.

Thus, Conscientia benè actæ vitæ est jucundissima, The consciousness of a well-spent life is very pleasant. Here conscientia is the grammatical, and conscientiu bene acte vite the logical subject.

337. The grammatical predicate is either a verb alone, or the copula sum with a noun, adjective, or adverb. The logical predicate consists of the grammatical predicate with its modifications.

Thus, Scipio fudit Annibalis copias, Scipio routed the forces of Hannibal. Here fudit is the grammatical, and fudit Annibalis copias the logical predicate.

- 338. A sentence may consist either of one proposition, or of two or more propositions connected together.
- 339. A sentence consisting of one proposition is called a simple sentence.
- 340. A sentence consisting of two or more propositions is called a compound sentence, and the propositions of which it is composed are called members or clauses.

^{$35.} What is the predicate of a proposition?

^{336.} What is the distinction between the grammatical and the logical subject?

^{337.} What is the distinction between the grammatical and logical predicate?

^{338.} Of what does a sentence consist?
339. What is a simple sentence?

^{340.} What is a compound sentence?

- 341. That member of a compound sentence on which the others depend, is called the leading clause; its subject, the leading subject; and its verb, the leading verb.
- 342. The members of a compound sentence may be connected by relative words, conjunctions, or adverbs.

343. Agreement is the correspondence of one word with another in gender, number, case, or person.

344. A word is said to govern another, when it requires it to be put in a certain case or mood.

345. A word is said to depend on another, when its case, gender, number, mood, tense, or person, is determined by that word.

346. A word is said to follow another, when it depends upon it in construction, (whatever may be its position in the sentence.)

APPOSITION.

347. A noun, annexed to another noun or to a pronoun, and denoting the same person or thing, is put in the same case; as,

Roma urbs, the city Rome. Nos consules, we consuls.

348. A noun in apposition to two or more nouns, is usually put in the plural; as.

M. Antonius, C. Cassius tribuni plebis; Mark Antony (and) Caius Cassius, tribunes of the people.

^{341.} What is the leading clause of a compound sentence?342. How may the members of a compound sentence be connected?

^{313.} What is agreement?

³⁴k When is a word said to govern another?

^{315.} When is a word said to depend on another? 316. When is a word said to follow another?

^{347.} What is the rule for words in apposition?

^{348.} What is said of a noun in apposition to two or more nouns ?

349. The principal noun or pronoun in the answer to a question must be in the same case with the corresponding interrogative word; as,

Quis herus est tibi? Amphitruo. Who is your master? Amphitruo. Quid quæris? Librum. What are you looking for? A book.

ADJECTIVES.

350. Adjectives, adjective pronouns, and participles, agree with their nouns in gender, number, and case; as,

Bonus vir, A good man.
Benignu mater, A kind mother.
Triste bellum, A sad war.

Bonos viros, Good men. Vanæ leges, Useless laws. Hæc res, This thing.

351. An adjective belonging to two or more nouns is put in the plural; as,

Lupus et agnus siti compulsi, A wolf and a lamb, constrained by thirst.

352. Exc. The adjective often agrees with the nearest noun, and is understood with the rest; as,

Sociis et rege recepto, (Our) companions and king being recovered.

When the nouns are of different genders,

353. (1.) If they denote living things, the adjective is masculine rather than feminine; as,

Pater mihi et mater mortui sunt, My father and mother are dead.

^{349.} What is the rule for interrogative and responsive words?

^{350.} What is the rule for the agreement of adjectives?

^{351.} Of what number is an adjective belonging to two or more nouns? 352. What exception is there to this remark?

^{353.} What is the rule when the nouns are of different genders, but denote living things?

354. (2.) If they denote things without life, the adjective is generally neuter; as,

His genus, etas, eloquentos prope equalia fuere; Their family, age, and eloquence, were nearly equal.

355. An adjective qualifying a collective noun, is often put in the plural, taking the gender of the individuals which the noun denotes; as,

Pars certare parati, A part prepared to contend.

356. An adjective is often used alone, the noun with which it agrees being understood; as,

Boni sunt rari, sc. homines; Good (men) are rare. Dextra, sc. manus; The right (hand.)

357. Neuter adjectives are very often used alone, when the word thing is to be supplied in English; as,

Triste lupus stabulis; The wolf, a grievous (thing) to the folds.

358. Imperatives, infinitives, adverbs, clauses, and words considered merely as such, may be used substantively, and take a neuter adjective; as,

Supremum vale dixit, He pronounced a last farewell. Nunquam est utile peccare, To do wrong is never useful.

359. The adjectives primus, medius, ultimus, extrêmus, intimus, infimus, imus, summus, suprêmus, reliquus, and cetera, often signify the first part, &cc.; as,

Media nox, The middle of the night. Summa arbor, The highest part of a tree.

^{354.} What is the rule when the nouns are of different genders, but denote things without life?

^{355.} What is the rule for an adjective qualifying a collective noun? 356. Is the noun to which an adjective belongs always expressed?

^{357.} What is said of neuter adjectives when used alone?

^{358.} When imperatives, infinitives, &c. are used substantively, or what gender are their adjectives?

^{350.} What is the remark respecting the adjectives primus, medius, &c. ?

RELATIVES.

360. Relatives agree with their antecedents in gender and number, but their case depends on the construction of the clause to which they belong; as,

Puer qui legit, The boy who reads. Animal quod currit, The animal which runs. Literæ quas dedi, The letter which I gave.

- 361. Sometimes the antecedent is a proposition, and then the relative is commonly neuter.
- 3614. A relative or demonstrative pronoun referring to a collective noun is often put in the plural, taking the gender of the individuals which the noun denotes.
- 362. The relative at the beginning of a sentence may often be translated by a demonstrative pronoun; as, Que cùm ita sint, Since these things are so.

POSSESSIVES.

3623. The possessive pronouns are often omitted, especially when used as reflexives; as,

Quò revertar? In patriam? sc. meam; Whither shall I return? Into (my) country?

NOMINATIVE.

UBJECT-NOMINATIVE

363. A verb agrees with its subject-nominative innumber and person; as,

^{360.} What is the rule for the agreement of relatives ?

^{361.} Of what gender is the relative when the antecedent is a proposition ?

^{362.} How may the relative be translated at the beginning of a ^{3624.} Are possessive pronouns ever omitted?

363. What is the rule for the agreement of a verb?

Ego lego, 1 read.
Tu scribes, Thou writest.
Eguns curret, The horse runs.

Nos legimus, We read. Vos scribitis, You write. Equi currunt, Horses run.

364. The nominatives ego, tu, nos, vos, are seldom expressed; as, cupio, I desire; vivis, thou livest; habēmus, we have. The nominative of the third person also is often omitted.

365. The relative qui may refer to an antecedent either of the first, second, or third person; and its verb takes the person of the antecedent; as,

Ego qui lego, I who read. Tu qui scribis, Thou who writest. Equus qui currit, The horse which runs.

366. A collective noun has sometimes a plural verb; as, Purs epülis onerant mensus, Part load the tables with food.

367. Two or more nominatives singular, not in apposition, generally have a plural verb; as,

Furor iraque mentem præcipitant, Fury and rage hurry on (my) mind.

368. A singular verb is often used after several nominatives singular, especially if they denote things without-life.

369. If the nominatives are of different persons, the verb agrees with the first person rather than the second, and with the second rather than the third; as,

, Si tu et Tullia valètis, ego et Cicèro valèmus ; If you and Tullia are well, Cicero and I are well.

370. The interjections en, ecce, and O, are sometimes followed by the nominative; as,

En Priamus! Lo Priam! Ecce homo Cationus! O vir fortis atque amicus!

^{364.} What nominatives are seldom expressed?

^{365.} Of what person is a verb when it agrees with the relative qui?

^{368.} What is the rule when the nominatives denote things without life?
369. Of what person is the verb when its nominatives are of different persons?

370. What interjections are followed by the nominative?

PREDICATE-NOMINATIVE.

371. A noun in the predicate, after a verb neuter or passive, is put in the same case as the subject, when it denotes the same person or thing; as,

Ira furor brevis est, Anger is a short madness. Ego vocor Lyconīdes, I am called Lyconides. Ego incedo regina, I walk a queen. Juneem me esse volo, I wish to be a judge.

GENITIVE.

GENITIVE AFTER NOUNS.

372. A noun which limits the meaning of another noun, denoting a different person or thing, is put in the genitive; as,

Amor gloriæ, Love of glory. Arma Achillis, The arms of Achilles. Pater patriæ, The father of the country.

Vitium ira, The vice of anger. Nemorum custos, The guardian of the groves. Amor kabendi, Love of possessing.

373. A substantive pronoun, which limits the meaning of a noun, is put in the genitive; as,

Cura mei, Care for me. Pars tui, Part of thee. Nostri nuncius, Our messenger.

374. The dative is sometimes used like the genitive; as,

Exitium pecori, A destruction to the flock. Cui corpus porrigitur, For whom the body is extended, i. c. whose body is extended.

375. When the limiting noun denotes a property,

^{373.} What is the rule for the genitive of substantive pronouns?

374. What other case is sometimes used instead of the genitive?

^{375.} What is the rule for the genitive denoting a property, character character, or quality, it has an adjective agreeing with it, and is put either in the genitive or ablative; as,

Vir ezempli recti, A man of correct example. Adolescens summæ audaciæ, A youth of the greatest boldness. Fossa pedum viginti, A ditch of twenty feet. Pulchritudine eximin femina, A woman of exquisite beauty. Maximo natu filius, The eldest son.

376. When the noun on which the genitive depends signifies part, property, duty, office, mark, characteristic, &c... it is often omitted after the verb sum; as,

Temeritus est florentis citatis, prudentia senectutis; Rashness is (the characteristic) of youth, prudence of old age. Adolescentis est majores natu revereri, it is (the duty) of a youth to reverence the aged.

GENITIVE AFTER PARTITIVES.

377. Nouns, adjectives, adjective pronouns, and adverbs, denoting a part, are followed by a genitive denoting the whole; as,

Purs civitatis, A part of the state. Nulla sororum, No one of the sisters. Altquis philosophorum, Some one of the philosophorus. Quis mortalium? Who of mortals? Major juvenum, The elder of the youths. Doctissimus Romanorum, The most learned of the Romans. Multum pecunia, Much (of) money. Satis eloquentia, Enough of eloquence. Ubinam gentium sumus? Where ou earth are we?

GENITIVE AFTER ADJECTIVES.

378. A noun limiting the meaning of an adjective is put in the genitive, to denote the relation expressed in English by of, or in respect of; as,

Avidus laudis, Desirous of praise. Appètens gloriæ, Desirous of glory. Memor virtuitis, Mindful of virtue. Plena timoris, Full of fear. Egénus aquæ, Destitute of water. Doctus fundi, Skilful in speaking.

^{376.} When is the noun on which the genitive depends often omitted?

^{377.} What is the rule for the genitive after partitives?378. What is the rule for the genitive after adjectives?

GENITIVE AFTER VERBS.

379. Sum, and verbs of valuing, are followed by a genitive denoting degree of estimation; as,

A me argentum, quanti est sumito; Take of me so much money as (he) is worth. Magni estimabut pecunium, He valued money greatly.

380. Misereor, miseresco, and the impersonals miseret, pænitet, pudet, tædet, and piget, are followed by a genitive of the object in respect to which the feeling is exercised; as,

Miseremini sociorum, Pity the allies. Miserescite regis, Pity the king. Tui me miseret, I pity you.

381. Satăgo is followed by a genitive denoting in what respect; as,

Is satagit rerum suarum, He in busily occupied with his own affairs.

382. Recordor, memini, reminiscor, and obliviscor, are followed by a genitive or accusative of the object remembered or forgotten; as,

Hujus meriti recordor, I remember his merit. Omnes gradus etdis recordor tue, I call to mind all the periods of your life. Memfui vivorum, I am mindful of the living. Numeros memtui, remember the measure. Cinnam memtui, I remember Cinna.

383. Verbs of accusing, convicting, condemning, and acquitting, are followed by a genitive denoting the trime; as,

Arguit me furti, He accuses me of theft. Alterum accusat probri, He accuses another of villany.

^{379.} What is the rule for the genitive after sum, and verbs of valuing?

^{380.} What is the rule for the genitive after misereor, &c.?

^{381.} What is the rule for the genitive after satago f 382. What is the rule for the genitive after recordor, &c. ?

^{383.} What is the rule for the genitive after verbs of accusing, &c.?

384. Verbs of admonishing are followed by a genitive denoting that in respect to which the admonition is given; as,

Milites temporis monet, He admonishes the soldiers of the occasion.

385. Refert and interest are followed by a genitive of the person or thing whose concern or interest they denote: as.

Humanitătis refert, It concerns human nature. Interest omnium recte fucere. It concerns all to do right.

386. Instead of the genitive of the substantive pronouns, after refert and interest, the adjective pronouns mea, tua, sua, nostra, and vestra, are used; as,

Mea nihil refert, It does not concern me.

GENITIVE OF PLACE.

387. The name of a town in which any thing is said to be, or to be done, if of the first or second declension and singular number, is put in the genitive; as,

Habitat Mileti, He lives at Miletus. Quid Roma faciam? What can I do at Rome?

388. The genitives domi, militiæ, belli, and humi, are construed like names of towns; as, Tenuit se domi, He staid at home. Und semper militiæ et domi fuimus, We were always together, both at home and abroad.

facere finem, It is time to finish this book.

478. The infinitive without a subject-accusative is used after verbs denoting desire, ability, intention, or endeavor; after verbs signifying to begin, continue, cease, or abstain, to dare, fear, or kesitate, to be wont; and after the passive of verbs of saying, believing, reckoning, &c.; as,

Hac vitare cupimus, These things we desire to avoid.

479. The infinitive with a subject-accusative follows verbs of saying, thinking, knowing, perceiving, and the like; as, Videbat id non posse fièri. He saw that that could not be done. Credunt se negligi, They believe themselves to be neglected.

4794. The infinitive with the accusative is sometimes translated by a similar form, but usually either by the indicative or potential with the particle that; as,

Te tud virtute frui cupimus, We wish you to enjoy, or,—that you may enjoy—.

PARTICIPLES

480. Participles are followed by the same cases as their verbs; as,

^{476.} Upon what may the infinitive depend?

^{477.} Upon what else may the infinitive alone depend?

^{478.} After what verbs is the infinitive without a subject used ? 479. Upon what kinds of verbs does the infinitive with the accusative depend?

Quidam, poëta nominātus; A certain one, called a poet. Catulorum oblita leæna, The lioness forgetful of her whelps. Tendens palmas, Extending (his) hands.

481. The participle in rus with sum, and also after verbs of motion, often denotes intention; as, Scripturus sum, I intend to write. Perget consulturus, He goes to consult.

482. The participle in dus with sum denotes necessity or propriety; as,

Is venerandus a nobis est, He should be worshipped by us. Dolendum est ipsi tibi, You yourself must grieve.

GERUNDS AND GERUNDIVES.

483. Gerunds are followed by the same cases as their verbs; as,

Metus purendi sibi, Fear of obeying him. Parcendo victis, By sparing the vanquished.

484. The participle in dus is called a gerundive when it is used instead of a gerund.

485. The genitive of gerunds and gerundives may follow either nouns or adjectives; as,

Amor kabendi, The love of possessing. Insuetus navigandi, Unaccustomed to navigating.

486. The dative of gerunds and gerundives is used especially after adjectives signifying usefulness or fitness; and also after verbs to denote a purpose; as,

487. The accusative of gerunds and gerundives follows the prepositions ad or inter, and sometimes ante, circa, or ub; as,

Ad prenitendum properat, He makes haste to repentance. Inter bibendum, While drinking.

489. The ablative of gerunds and gerundives follows the prepositions a, ab, de, e, ex, or in; or it is used without a preposition as the ablative of cause, manner, or means; as,

A scribendo, From writing. Crescit sundo, It increases by going.

SUPINES.

489. Supines in um are followed by the same cases as their verbs; as,

Eurypylum scitātum oracītla Phabi mittīmus, We send Eurypylus to consult the oracle of Apollo.

490. Supines in um follow verbs of motion, and serve to denote the purpose of the motion; as,

Te admonitum venio, I come to admonish you.

491. The supine in u is used to limit the meaning of adjectives signifying wonderful, agreeable, easy or difficult, worthy or unworthy, honorable or base, and a few others; as,

Mirabile dictu! Wonderful to tell, or to be told!

^{487.} What is the rule for the accusative of gerunds and gerundives?

^{488. ——} for the ablative of gerunds and gerundives?

^{489.} By what cases are supines in um followed?

^{490.} What do supines in um follow?
491. With what classes of adjectives is the supine in a used?

492. The supine in u is used also after the nouns fas, nefas, and opus; as,

Nefus dictu! Shameful to relate!

ADVERBS.

493. Adverbs modify or limit the meaning of verbs, adjectives, and sometimes of other adverbs; as,

Bene mones, You advise well. Fortissime urgentes, Most vigorously pressing on. Longe dissimilis, Far different. Valde bene, Very well.

CONJUNCTIONS.

494. Copulative and disjunctive conjunctions, and some others, connect words which are in the same construction; as,

Pulvis et umbra sumus, We are dust and shade. Clarus et konoratus vir, An illustrious and honorable man. Cim ad approached the town, and was pitching his camp there.

ARRANGEMENT.

- 495. In a Latin sentence, after connectives, are placed, first, the subject and its modifiers; then the oblique cases, and other words which depend upon or modify the verb; and last of all, the verb.
- 496. Connectives generally stand at the beginning of a clause.

^{492.} After what nouns is the supine in a used?

^{493.} What is the rule for the construction of adverbs?

^{494. —} for copulative and disjunctive conjunctions?
495. What is the order of words in a Latin sentence?

^{406.} Where do connectives stand?

497. Oblique cases precede the words upon which they depend, but they follow prepositions.

498. Infinitives precede the verbs on which they depend.

499. Relatives are commonly placed after their antecedents, and as near to them as possible.

500. The emphatic word is placed before the word or words connected with it.

RULES FOR TRANSLATING CERTAIN FORMS AND IDIOMS.

IMPERSONAL VERBS.

501. The English subject of an impersonal verb in the passive voice may be either the agent in the ablative, expressed or understood, or an abstract noun formed from the verb; as,

Pugnatum est ab nobis, (ab illis, &c.,) or simply pugnatum est, we, (they, &c.) fought; or, like pugna pugnata est, the battle was fought.

502. Sometimes the English subject of an impersonal verb is, in Latin, an oblique case of a noun or pronoun following the verb; as, Miseret me tui, I pity you. Favetur tibi, Thou art favored.

^{497.} Where do oblique cases stand?
498. Where do infinitives stand?

500. Where is the emphatic word placed?
501. What may be the English subject of an impersonal verb in the passive voice?

^{502.} In what case in Latin is the word sometimes found that is translated as the English subject of an impersonal verb?

PARTITIVE GENITIVE.

503. Nihil, a neuter adjective of quantity, or a neuter pronoun, followed by a partitive genitive, is often to be translated by an adjective agreeing with its noun; as,

Nihil præmii, No reward. Tantum fides, So much fidelity. Id temporis, That time.

COMPARATIVE DEGREE.

504. The comparative degree may sometimes be translated by the positive with too or rather; as,

Liberius vivebat, He lived too freely. Tristior fuit, He was rather sad.

ABLATIVE ABSOLUTE.

505. When the ablative absolute denotes time, it may sometimes be translated by a clause beginning with when, while, after, &c., and sometimes by turning the participle or adjective into a corresponding noun limited by the other noun; as,

Romulus reigned; or, In the reign of Romulus.

506. When the act denoted by a perfect passive participle was performed by the subject of the leading clause, it may be translated by an active participle agreeing with such subject, or by a clause having its verb in the active voice; as,

Galli, re cognità, obsidionem relinquant, The Gauls learning (or having learned) the fact, raise the siege; or, When the Gauls had learned the fact, &c.

PARTICIPLES.

507. The future participle in -rus is commonly translated about or going, with the present infinitive; as,

Scripturus, About to write; or, Going to write.

508. The participle in -rus, when joined to the verb sum, often denotes intention, and is to be translated by the present infinitive active; as,

Scripturus sum, I intend to write.

509. The perfect passive participle is commonly translated by the English participles of the passive voice; as,

Amatus, Loved, being loved, or having been loved.

510. The perfect passive participle may sometimes be translated by a verbal noun; as,

Ante Roman conditam, Before the building of Rome.

511. The participle in -dus is commonly translated by the present infinitive passive; as, amandus, to be loved: but when joined to sum it is translated must be, or ought to be.

512. The present and perfect participles, in addition to their literal translation, may sometimes take the particles while, when, because, though, if, &c.; as,

Mihi scribenti, To me while writing, &c.

^{507.} How is the future participle in rus commonly translated?

^{508.} How is the future in rus to be translated when joined to sum? 509. How is the perfect possive participle commonly to be translated?

^{510.} By what other part of speech may the perfect passive participle sometimes be translated?

^{511.} How is the participle in dus commonly translated? How when joined to sum?

^{512.} What particles are sometimes added in English to the literal translation of the present and perfect participles?

513. Sometimes the present and perfect participles may be translated by a relative clause, or by a clause containing a noun or pronoun with some particle prefixed; as,

Mihi scribenti, To me, who was writing; or, To me, while I was writing, &c.

GERUNDS AND SUPINES.

514. After ad a gerund or gerundive may be translated by the infinitive active; as,

Ad pænitendum propërat, He hastens to repent.

515. Supines in u are translated by the present infinitive, either active or passive; as,

Mirabile dictu, Wonderful to tell, or, to be told.

SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

516. In dependent sentences the present subjunctive is often to be translated by might, could, would, or should, instead of may.

517. In indirect questions the subjunctive is commonly translated by the indicative; as, Quis ego sim, me rogas? Do you ask me who I am?

518. After adverbs of time the subjunctive is commonly translated by the indicative; as,

Quum sciret, When he knew.

^{513.} In what other way may the present and perfect participles sometimes be translated?

^{514.} How may a gerund or gerundive be translated after ad?

^{515.} How may a gerund or gerundive be translated a

^{516.} With what nuxiliaries may the present subjunctive often be translated in dependent clauses?

^{517.} How is the subjunctive commonly translated in indirect questions?

^{518.} How, after adverbs of time?

519. The subjunctive denoting a result is commonly translated by the indicative or the infinitive; as,

In Alpibus tuntum est frigus, ut nix ibi nunquam liquescot, The cold in the Alps is so great, that the snow never melts there

520. The subjunctive denoting a purpose or object is translated by the potential or the infinitive; as, Edo, ut vivam, I eat to live; or, that I may live.

519. How, when denoting a result?

^{520.} How, when denoting a purpose or object?

ANALYSIS AND PARSING.

THE following are examples of analysis and parsing, according to the principles of the preceding Grammar.

1. Tempus veniet, The time will come.

ANALYSIS.

This is a simple sentence. Its subject is tempus; its predicate is veniet.

PARSING.

Tempus is a common noun, of the third declension, neuter gender, [Decline it, 91.] in the singular number, and is nominative to venict.

Venict is a neuter* verb, of the fourth conjugation. [Repeat the principal parts, as found in the dictionary.] It is formed in the active voice, from the first root, [Repeat the parts formed from this root, as in audio. in the indicative mood future tense, [Repeat the persons of this tense.] third person singular number, agreeing with tempus. [Repeat the rule, 363.]

The paragraphs of the Grammar, to which reference is made at the foot of the page, should be repeated in similar cases by the learner, until their application is familiar. In the following examples, when the same references might have been made, they are often left to be supplied by the student,

2. Sola laurus fulmine non icitur, The laurel alone is not struck by lightning.

ANALYSIS.

This is a simple sentence.

Its logical subject is sola laurus, the laurel alone.

Its grammatical subject is laurus, the laurel.

Its logical predicate is fulmine non icitur, is not struck by lightning.

Its grammatical predicate is icitur, is struck.

PARSING.

Sola is an adjective, of the feminine gender, from solus of the first and second declensions, [Decline it in the feminine gender.'] in the singular number, nominative case, agreeing with laurus. [Repeat the rule, 350.]

Laurus is a common noun, of the second declension, feminine gender, [Decline it.] in the nominative case to icitur.

Fulmine is a common noun, of the third declension, neuter gender, [Decline it.] in the singular number, ablative case after icitur. [Repeat the rule, 430.]

Non is an adverb modifying icitur.*

Icitur is an active verb, of the third conjugation.

[Repeat its principal parts.] It is formed in the passive voice, from the first root, [Repeat the parts formed from this root.] in the indicative mood, present tense, [Repeat the persons.] third person, singular, agreeing with laurus. [Repeat the rule, 363]

. S. Urhs, quam Romulus condidit, vocabatur Roma; The city which Romulus built was called Rome.

ANALYSIS.

This is a compound sentence, consisting of two propositions. 1. Urbs vocahātur Roma, the city was called Rome. 2. Quan Romulus condidit, which Romulus built.

In the first proposition, urbs is the grammatical subject, and urbs limited by the relative clause, (quam Romülus condidit,) is the logical subject. In the second, or relative clause, Romülus is the subject, condidit the grammatical, and quam condidit the logical predicate.

PARSING.

Urbs is a common noun, of the third declension, feminine gender, [Decline it.] in the nominative case to vocabātur.

Quam is a relative pronoun, of the feminine gender, from qui, quæ, quod, agreeing with its antecedent urbs, [Repeat the rule, 360,] [Decline it in the feminine.'] in the accusative after conditate. [Repeat the rule, 390.]

Romulus is a proper noun, of the second declension, masculine gender, [Decline it.] in the nominative case to condidit.

Conditit is an active verb, of the third conjugation. [Repeat the principal parts.] It is formed in the active voice, from the second root, [Repeat the parts formed from this root."] in the indicative mood, perfect indefinite tense, [Repeat the persons.] third person, singular, agreeing with Romülus. [Repeat the rule, 363.]

Vocabatur is an active verb, of the first conjugation. [Repeat the principal parts.] It is formed in the passive voice, from the first root, [Repeat the parts formed from this root.] in the indicative mood, imperfect tense, [Repeat the persons of this tense.] third person, singular, agreeing with urbs. [Rule.]

Roma is a proper noun, of the first declension, feminine gender, [Decline it.] in the nominative case

after vocabātur. [Repeat the rule, 371.]

4. "Tui me miseret," aiebat testudini Lacerta, "quæ, quocunque libeat vadere, Tuam ipsa tecum ferre cogaris domum."

ANALYSIS.

This sentence consists of four propositions. 1. Tui me miseret, I pity you. 2. Aiebat testudini lacerta, said a lizard to a tortoise. 3. Quæ tuam ipsa tecum ferre cogaris domum, who are compelled to carry your house with you. 4. Quocunque libeat vadere, whither-soever it pleases (you) to go.

These propositions are to be analyzed and parsed like the preceding; but in the first, the subject is wanting, and in the fourth, it consists of the infinitive vaděre. The impersonal verb misěret is here translated in such a manner that the pronoun me, depending upon it, appears in English as its subject, instead of the pronoun it. It might, though less properly, have been translated, "it pities." The other impersonal verbs mentioned in 401 are usually translated in the same manner.

THE LIFE OF JOSEPH.

1. Joseph's Childhood.

Jacōbus habuit duoděcim filios, inter quos erat Joséphus, quem pater ddigébat præ cetéris filiis, quòd hic natus erat ipsi* in ejus senectūte, et huic dedit togam versicolòrem.

Quam ob causam Josephus erat invisus suis fratribus, præsertim postquam narrivit eis duplex somnium, quo' futura ejus magnitudo portendebatur.

Odërante illum tantopëre, ut non possente cum eo amicè loqui.

2. Joseph's Dreams.

Hæc porro erant Joséphi somnia. "Ligabāmus," inquit, "simul manipulos in agro: ecce manipulus meus surgébat et stabat rectus; vestri autem manipuli circumstantes venerabantur meun.

" P stea vidi in somnis solem, lunam, et undecim

stellas adorantes me."/

Cui fratres responderunt, "Quorsum spectant ista somnia? Num tu eris rex noster? Num subjiciemes ditioni tuæ?"

3. Joseph's Brothers resolve to kill him.

Quâdam die quum fratres Josephi pascerent greges procul, ipse remanserat domi. Jacobus misit eum ad fratres, ut sciret quomodo se haberent,

PQui' videntes Josephum venientem consilium ceperunt illius occidendi: "Ecce," dicebant, "sonniator venit: foccidamus illum, et projiciamus in puteum: dicemus patri, 'Fera devoravit Josephum.' Tunc apparebit quid sua illi prosint' somnia."

4. Beuben, his eldest Brother, saves his Life.

Ruben, qui erat natu' maximus, deterrebat fratres a tanto scelere.

"Nolite," inquiebat, "interficere puerum: est enim frater noster: demittite eum potiùs in hanc foveam."

Habebat in animo liberare Josephum ex corum manipus, et illum extrahere e fovea, atque ad patrem reducere.

Re ipsâ his verbis deducti sunt ad mitius consilium.

Joseph is sold by his Brothers.

Ubi Josephus pervenit ad fratres suos, detraxerunt eit togam, quât indutus erat, et detruserunt eum in foveam.

9. The Dreams of two of Pharaoh's Officers.

Erant in eodem carcère duo ministri regis Pharaonis; alter præerat pincernis,* alter pistoribus.

Utrique obvenit divinitus sommum eadem nocte.

Ad quos quum venisset Joséphus manè, et animadvertisset eos tristiòres solito, interrogavit quanam esset mæstitiæ causa?

Qui responderunt: "Obvenit nobis somnium, nec quisquam est qui illud nobis interpretetur."

^ "Nonne," inquit Joséphus, "Dei/ sollus est prænoscĕref res futuras? Narrate mihi somnia vestra."

10. Joseph explains the Chief Butler's Dream.

Tum prior sic exposuit Josepho somnium suum.

"Vidi in quiete vitem in qua erant tres palmites; ea paulatim protulit gemmas; deinde flores erdperunt, ac denique uvæ maturescebant.

" Ego exprimebam uvas in scyphum Pharaonis, eique porrigebani."

"Esto bono animo," inquit Joséphus, "post tres dies Pharao te restituet in gradum pristinum: te rogo ut memineris mei."

11. He explains the Dream of the Chief Baker.

Alter quoque narrăvit somnium suum Josepho.

Cui Joséphus: " Hec est interpretatio istius somniz: tria canistra sunt tres dies, quibus elapsis Pharao te feriet securi, et affiget ad palum, ubi aves pascentur carne tuâ."

12. The Accomplishment of the two Droams.

Die tertio, qui dies natălis Pharaonis erat, splendīdum convivium parandum fuit.

Tunc rex meminit ministrorum suorum, qui erant in carcĕre.

Restituit præfecto pincernārum ejus munus; altērum verò secūri percussum suspendit alligatum ad palum. Ita res somnium comprobavit.

Tamen præsectus pincernārum oblītus est Josēphi,4 nec illius in se meritia recordatus est.

13. King Pharaoh's Dreams.

Post biennium rex ipse habuit somnium.

Videbātur sibi adstāre Nilo flumīni; et ecce emergēbant de flumīne septem vaccæ pingues, quæ pascebantur in palūde. Deinde septem aliæ ναccæ macilentæ exièrunt ex eödem flumīne, quæ devorārunt/ priōres.

Pharao experrectus rursum dormivit, et alterum habuit somnium.

Septem spicæ plenæ enascebantur in uno culmo, alia:que totidem exiles succrescêbant, et spicas plenas consumébant.

14. The Chief Butler speaks of Joseph to the King.

Ubi illuxit, Pharao perturbătus convocăvit omnes conjectores Ægypti, et narrāvit illis somnium; at nemo poterat illud interpretāri.

Tunc præfectus pincernārum dixit regi: "Confiteor peccātum meum: quum ego et præfectus pistorum essēmus in carcere, uterque" somniavimus eadem nocte.

"Erat ibi puer Hebræus, qui nobis sapienter interpretătus est somnia; res enim interpretationem comprobăvit."

15. Joseph interprets the King's Dreams.

Rex arcessīvit Josephum, eique narrāvit utrumquesomnium. 'Tum Josephus Pharaoni: "Duplex," inquit, "somnium unam atque eandem rem significat.

"Septem vaccæ pingues et septem spicæ plenæ sunt septem anni ubertatis mox venturæ: septem verò vaccæ macilentæ et septem spicæ exiles sunt totidem anni fa-mis, quæ ubertåtem secutura est.

"Itaque, rex," præfice toti Ægypto virum sapientem et industrium, qui partem frugum recondat in horreis publicis, servetque diligenter in subsidium famis secuturæ."

16. Joseph is made Overseer of all Egypt.

Regi placuit consilium; quare dixit Josepho: "Num quisquam est in Ægypto te' sapientior? Nemo certè fungetur meliùs illo munere."

"En tibi trado curam regni mei."

Tum detraxit e manu sua annulum, et Josephi digito ap'avit; induit illi vestem byssinam, collo torquem aureum circumdedit, eumque in curru suo secundum collocavit.

veracem simius: "Et qualis tibi videor ego et illi, quos stare ante me vides?" Respondit ille: "Verus tu es simius, et simii onines illi, qui similes tibi." Iratus rex imperat illum dentibus et unguibus lacerari, quòd vera dixerat.

Verītas multis odiāsa est.

12. The Nightingale and the Cuckoo.

Luscinia verno quodam die dulcissimè canere cæpit. Pueri aliquot haud procul aberant in valle lusitantes. Ili cum lusui essent intenti, lusciniæ cantu nihil movebantur. Non multò pòst cuculus cœpit cuculare. Continuò pueri lusu neglecto ei acclamare, vocemque cuculi identidem imitari. "Audisne, luscinia," inquit cuculus, "quanto me isti plausu excipiant, quantopere cantu meo delectentur?" Luscinia, quæ nollet cum eo altercări, nihil impediēbat, quò minus ille suam vocem miraretur. Interea pastor fistulă canens cum puellai lento gradu præteriit. Cuculus iterum vociseratur novas laudes captans. At puella pastorem' allocuta: "Malè sit," inquit, "huic cuculo, qui cantum tuum odiosa voce interstrepit." Quo audito cum cuculus in pudorem conjectus contiduisset," luscinia tam suaviter canère cœpit, ut se ipsam superare velle viderētur. Pastor fistulam deponens: "Considāmust hic," inquit, "sub arbore," et lusciniam audiāmus." Tum pastor et puella cantum lusciniæ certātim laudare coeperunt, et diu taciti intentis auribus' sedent Ad postrēmum adeò capta est puella sonorum dulcedine, ut lacrimæ quòque erumpérent. Tum luscinia ad cuculum conversa: "Videsne," inquit, "quantum ab imperitorum opinionibus prudentiorum judicia distent ? Una sanè ex istis lacrimis, quamvis muta.

ætatulam nemini posset operam aliquam commodāre, negligunt eum, atque in ædibus sinunt libere vagāri. Is vero, cui Richardus Vittington nomen fuit, hoc sibi sponte sumpsit negotii, ut acus abjectăque funiculorum præsegmina legeret curioseque custodiret. Quodsi acuum duodecădem aut funiculorum fasciculum collegisset, ad herum detulit. Herus verò hac re delectabătur, quippe qui puerum olim parcum futurum et fidelem, inde intelligeret. Atque ab eo inde tempore magis eum curăre, imò diligere.

- 2. Interea verò accidit, ut ostiarius vellet pullos selinos in aquas projicère. Adit herum puer, rogatque ut permittat sibi selem parvulam educăre, quam adultam vendat. Quo' annuente alit puer et educit seliculam. Aliquo tempore post navim parat herus, qua peregrinas in terras merces venum mitteret. Qui' còm in eo esset, ut navim, rectene ea instructa sit, necne, lustraret, obviàm ei sit puer selem in sinu gerens. "Quid!" acclamat herus, "an non et tu habes, Richarde, quod venum mittas!" Ah! bene quidem tute scis, respondet puer, egenum me esse, neque habere quidquam, præterquam hanc selem." "Quidni hance tuam selem miseris!" Quo audīto puer accelerat ad navim, selemque imponit.
- 3. Solvit navis, atque post menses aliquot ad terram hactenus incognitam appellit. Escendunt, regem hic regnare comperiunt. Qui còm audisset peregrinos appulisse, arcessit eōrum aliquos, mensæque adhibet. At verò in maxima cibariorum copia vix gustandi ea fuit potestas. Namque omne cubiculum obsidebatur muribus, iique protervè gregatimque discurrebant in mensa, cibum invadebant, quin bolum convivis e manu præripiēbant. Neque rationem quisquam invenīre potuit opprimendi hæc animalia, quamvis ingentem pecuniæ vim præmio rex proposuisset. Id ubi hospites animadverterent, regi dixerunt attulisse sese animal, quod mures hos ad unum omnes facile posset delere.

- 4. Apportāta dein felis hem! quam stragem dedit murium! post semihōram nullus erat in toto cubiculo, quem vidēres audiresve. Quâ re rex perinde ac de regno alīquo donāto gaudet, atque felem ducenties mille imperialībus emit, ut qui esset supra fidem opulentus. Quo facto domum nautæ properavērunt. Quod si mercātor ille Londiniensis, navarchus, fraudulentus fuisset et fallax homo, rem omnem, ut gesta erat, Richardum celasset, aurumque ad suos usus convertisset. Sed probiōrem eo homīnem vix invenisses. Nam simul atque audiērat, quantam pecuniam nautæ e fele fecissent, puĕro arcessito rem omnem apĕrit, spondetque sese aurum ipsi justo tempŏre redditūrum.
- 5. Jubet eum mercatūram docēri, et cùm pergĕret puer in fide, assiduitāte, et parsimoniâ, dedit adulto ei filiam, quam habēbat unam, in matrimonium, eumque decēdens herēdem ex asse instituit. Atque ita Richardus Vittington facultātes sibi comparāvit quâm amplissīmas eâ, quam a pueritiâ inde adamârat, parsimoniâ. Fors quidem hac in re partem haud levissīmam sibi deposcit, sed tamen parsimonia puĕri fuit eorum, quæ evenērunt, causa prima. Namque nemo nisi parcus felem, quò posset olim vendĕre eam, aluisset; neque impetrāsset fortè ab hero, nisi antè ejus favorem parsimonià suâ sibi conciliāsset, potestātem feliculam hanc pro suā habendi; atque adeò casus ille prospertīmus non evenisset.
